The School Health Alliance is offering this program to school health professionals who have day to day contact with children within the school environment.

This one-day program is designed to provide school health professionals with current, evidence based information on Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and related services available to families. Also discussed are: 1) the legal aspects of social media, 2) avoiding personal liability, and 3) documentation best practices and tips for staying out of court.

Who Should Attend?

School health personnel, counselors, social workers, psychologist, special education teachers/ coordinators, personal care providers, parents and administrators.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:

- Discuss ASD and its accompanying conditions, available therapies and treatments.
- Identify interventions and available resources for families living with ASD
- Identify potential liability exposure from the misuses of social media and social networking
- Analyze the need for professional liability insurance
- Assess potential liability for malpractice and licensure defense
- Understand how medical records are used in litigation
- Identify common documentation deficiencies
